Dell will join the growing crowd of makers selling ultra-portable notebooks for $399-$499. Coming in late June or early July, the new line of laptops will have flash memory-based storage of 8-12GB.

Michael Dell recently highlighted that for more than one year Dell has invited its customers to share ideas about improving products on IdeaStorm.com. Their site has attracted more than 8900 ideas and features 45 Ideas in Action.
