

EU Backs Nokia in Mobile TV Standard

Written by Bob Snyder
20 March 2008

The European Commission decides Nokia's DVB-H will be the preferred European mobile TV standard. Some EU states (UK, Germany, Netherlands) opposed setting DVB-H as the single standard: now EU countries will now be required to encourage the use of DVB-H. EC hopes this year's soccer European Championship and the Olympic Games will boost consumer take-up of mobile TV.

Go

Mobile

TV EU-Style