Germany's be quiet! announces the Pure Rock 2 at CES 2020-- a successor to the original Pure Rock CPU cooler featuring support for up to 150W TDP processors complete with a Pure Wings 2 120mm PWM fan.

Aimed at entry-level users, the Pure Rock 2 has four 6mm heatpipes with a direct contact baseplate design for improved cooling performance. An asymmetrical design aids memory compatibility, and the package includes fan retention clips for two fans as well as the aforementioned single Pure Wings 2 120mm PWM cooling fan.

The Pure Rock 2 ships in April 2020 with an anodised coating in a choice of two colours, silver or black.
