

Micron will ship in second half 2009 a new higher-density flash memory chip for media players so mobile processors can be relieved of NAND management.

The 8GB/16GB Block Abstracted NAND for media players and other devices has a built- in memory controller that rids processors of CPU intensive work.

Go BA NAND